If I could turn time around and would I turn you away
Did I do all I could to make you wanna stay
Tell me what would it take to get you to change
Instead of running through thunder you play in the rain

If you could turn time around, would you go back to the start?
If you could take anything, would you take me apart?
And put me together however you want
You want

Will I ever know for sure when you'll be at my door
Like so many times before
You're back for one more chance to love me

Here comes the sun, I had been that I've missed you
Here comes the rain, will you stay? Will you run away?
Stay here till the end, my fair-weather friend

Second guessing every second of every hour
Never know if you're gonna come back around
Is there a rhyme or a reason to everything that you are?
You are

Will I ever know for sure when you'll be at my door
Like so many times before
You're back for one more chance to love me

Here comes the sun, I had been that I've missed you
Here comes the rain, will you stay? Will you run away?
Stay here till the end, my fair-weather friend
Fair-weather friend

Will I ever know for sure when you'll be at my door
Like so many times before
Back for one more chance to love me

Here comes the sun, I had been that I've missed you
Here comes the rain, will you stay? Will you?

Here comes the sun, I had been that I've missed you
Here comes the rain, will you stay? Will you run away?

Stay here till the end, my fair-weather
Stay here till the end, my fair-weather friend
Fair-weather friend, fair-weather friend
