Though there may be sadness here and you could nearly drown in fear
And the world conspires again to pull you down Bottled up in sentiment as though the best were never meant
And the weaker ones are nowhere to be found

We will not become those lazy lovers, lazy lovers, no
We will not become those lazy lovers, lazy lovers, no

Well, no one says how hard it gets, never taking time to rest
So many ways for us to come undone To fight for something meaningful, to live for something wonderful Is easier to say than to be done

We will not become those lazy lovers, lazy lovers, no
We will not become those lazy lovers, lazy lovers, no,
no, no

I may not know much but I know this for sure, my baby Well, I may not know much but I know this for sure, my baby
Well, I may not know much but I know this for sure, my
baby

We will not become those lazy lovers, lazy lovers, no
We will not become those lazy lovers, lazy lovers

We will not become lazy lovers, lazy lovers, no, no, no
We will not become lazy lovers, lazy lovers, no, no, no, no
We will not become lazy lovers, lazy lovers, no

We won't give in to casualty, give in to human frailty Won't walk away from love when things get tough
