Check the shape of your eyes

You're taking too much

And loosen your smile

You're pushing too hard

You're lost for words

For what it's worth

The years ache on

You get the face you deserve

Time will heal these scars

I don't need your help

The melody's choked

Stuck in a swollen throat

Self-medicated and over-served

The tell-tale signs

You make your fate when you

Rise up, rise up

And make yourself well

Rise up, rise up

And make yourself well

Scream yourself awake

Snap out of the trance

Feeling clumsy watching others dance

And draining away

A tangle of nerves

Kick out of your way

And learn to

Rise up, rise up

And make yourself well

Rise up, rise up

And make yourself well

Rise up, rise up

And make yourself well

Rise up, rise up

And make yourself well

Check the shape of your eyes
Check the shape of your eyes
Check the shape of your eyes
Check the shape of your eyes

Rise up, rise up
And make yourself well

Rise up, rise up
And make yourself well

Rise up, rise up
And make yourself well

Rise up, rise up
And make yourself well

Rise up, rise up
Rise up, rise up
Rise up, rise up
Rise up, rise up
