I felt a hand warming deep around her
And it always makes me wonder was it you?
I met somebody else, brushing off in laughter
It felt an awful lot like it was you

Was it you who caught my attention?
Was it you who showed me I'll face anywhere but here?
I'd like to see you go

I see BLU underwater next to you
The Seven seas don't have a clue of where to hide
someone like you
I see BLU underwater next to you
Every wave brings me bad news, ooh oh

I'm off the deep end, it holds me so much closer I'm drowning in a cloud like no one knew

Was it you who caught my attention?
Was it you who showed me I'll face anywhere but here?
I'd like to see you go

I see BLU underwater next to you
The Seven seas don't have a clue of where to hide
someone like you
I see BLU underwater next to you
Every wave brings me bad news, news

I'm scaling half the ocean, burying your name,
But I found the seas all frozen after coming all this way

I See BLU underwater next to you
The Seven seas don't have a clue of where to hide
someone like you
I See BLU underwater next to you
The Seven seas don't have a clue of where to hide
someone like you
I See BLU underwater next to you
Every wave brings me bad news, news
