

The Steeldrivers

"East Kentucky Home"

Visit "East Kentucky Home" on MotoLyrics.com

Been up and down this lonesome highway
Coast to coast and back again
I just had to do things my way
Had to go against the wind

Cause I've been dreaming of the girl I left behind
Lord she had the truest heart I've ever known
And I've been looking for a world I'll never find
Ever since I left my East Kentucky Home

I can smell the wood smoke risin'
Feel the wind out in the pines
See the way I left her cryin'
Every time I close my eyes
Cause I've been dreaming of the girl I left behind
Lord she had the truest heart I've ever known
And I've been looking for a world I'll never find
Ever since I left my East Kentucky Home

Think I'll get up with the sunrise,
Think I'll pack my things and go
It's taken me this long to realize
The only thing I need to know

Cause I've been dreaming of the girl I left behind
Lord she had the truest heart I've ever known
And I've been looking for a world I'll never find
Ever since I left my East Kentucky Home
Ever since I left my East Kentucky Home

Visit The Steeldrivers page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.