How many times have I believed your lying lips
Who kissed me in the dark?
How long have I been holding to a love
Who's been abandoned by your heart?
When did it start?

How long have I been your fool?
How long have I been your fool?
Tell me how could you be so cruel,
How long have I been your fool?

We used to give each other all we had,
But our bodies and our souls.
So, how'd you change your mind, stop on a dime,
Let everything we have turned cold
Honey, I don't know....

How long have I been your fool?
How long have I been your fool?
Tell me how could you be so cruel,
How long have I been your fool?

I don't need your reasons why
I already know you got me wrong
But before I say goodbye
Baby, won't you tell me just how long
And then I'll go.

Last night, you didn't even called
I guess you're past the point of tryin' to hide.
And thinking 'bout the thought of you with someone new
Is killing me inside,
So I just cry.

How long have I been your fool?
How long have I been your fool?
Tell me how could you be so cruel,
How long have I been your fool?
