I'll be the clouds blocking the sunlight
And I'll be the moon watching at midnight
Somewhere in your dreams, I'll be there.

I'll be a face in the crowd for a moment,
And all of the places that we used to go,
Just look around, I'll be there.

Go on, leave me, run away
Try to unlock this ball and chain
You'll find some things you can't leave behind.

I'll be the words stuck in your head
Over and over the last ones you said
Just listen close, I'll be there.

Oh go on, leave me, run away
Try to unlock this ball and chain
You'll find some things you can't leave behind.

Oh go on, leave me, run away
Try to unlock this ball and chain
You'll find some things you can't leave behind.

Hundreds of, thousands of, miles in between us
Would do you no good, baby,
Because there's no leaving me, I'll be there.

Wherever you go, I'll be there.
