

Jelly Jam, The

"Feeling"

Visit "Feeling" on MotoLyrics.com

Once on a ride
I was left in the forest
And the leaves and the wind
Seemed to carry me home

But when I arrived
It was long after morning
And the heat of the day
Left me standing alone

Voices calling, I go falling in
Someone said, "Let's go" but it begins
And it seems like I've been here before

Leave me my red cherry wine
And I know I'll be doing just fine
'Cause I'm keeping this
Deep heart of mine from feeling

Long after dark
I was left out there wandering
And I came across things
I would never have seen

And once in a while
I'd imagine a ray of light
And I'd think to myself
I might just make it out of this thing

Voices calling, I go falling in
Someone said, "Let's go" but it begins
And it seems like I've been here before

Leave me my red cherry wine
And I know I'll be doing just fine
'Cause I'm keeping this
Deep heart of mine from feeling

Feeling
Feeling
Feeling

And when I awoke
It was long after morning
And it seemed like a dream
But I knew it was real

'Cause the glass had been broken
At the sound of a warning
And the truth became known
In the things I had tried to conceal, yeah

Voices calling, I go falling in
Someone said, "Let's go" but it begins
And it seems like I've been here before

Leave me my red cherry wine
And I know I'll be doing just fine
'Cause I'm leaving my red cherry wine
'Cause I know I'll be alright in time

Yeah, give me my red cherry wine
'Cause I know I'll be doing just fine
And I'm feeling, feeling, feeling, feeling

Visit Jelly Jam, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.