The stars have gone from the sky,
and tears are here in my eyes.
And I, I don't want this to be.
I don't have you but you still have me.
I try but the words come out wrong.
I lie awake all night long
And oh, when it's raining it pours.

You're not mine, but I am still yours.
The happy bluebird sings a beautiful melody.
But oh such a song is meaningless
without you to hear it with me.
I cry cause I know that it's true.
You don't love me, but I still love you.
