I guess it doesn't matter
If I play along today
To see your face alone is worth it
When you finally learn
I know it won't be disappointing
When you realize the games
That you've been playing are all pointless
Since I broke the rules

Good try you almost had me wondering
If it was worth it
To see you begging on your knees
For what you wasted

In your eyes I see the question
Am I here to cause you pain?
I might have sunk down to your level once
But never now
I'm trying to be the better person
What I forgive I won't forget
And while you know I'll always listen
You'll never get another chance

Good try you almost had me wondering
If it was worth it
To see you begging on your knees
For what you wasted

Cuz in my eyes
You are nothing

Good try you almost had me wondering
If it was worth it
To see you begging on your knees
For what you wasted
