

These United States "Time To Forget"

Visit "Time To Forget" on MotoLyrics.com

You are the daytime, I'm the night.
When there is peace we want to fight.
We are two contraries that need each other,
like heaven needs hell,
and like a son a father.

I'm trying to eat soup with a knife.
You're wearing a lifesuit
when you try to dive.
I love to hide myself up on the stage,
Oh! when you try to find your calmness,
Walking on the edge.

I see two different ways, it's to forget it,
or to remember,
I think there is no other way to start.
Get free from all your memories of war,
time to surrender.
Believe, and future will believe in you

You are the moon, I am the sun.
You walk around, I always run.
I'm the silence, you're a loud and noisy sound,
I'm the circle of a box,
You're the corner of a round.

I need you as much as you need me,
if you were not, I wouldn't be.
So why don't we call things by their name?
We don't really understand it,
or we like this cruel game.

Visit These United States page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.