Behind the moon you'll find the sun.
Down at the beach there is not anyone.
The water so blue,
and the way I feel too,
and nothing matters anymore but you.

They slightly disappear, the stars.
Venus not there and neither Mars.
I ask for the truth, and you answer me shhh?
A nice way to say it, so smooth!

Waves on the sea, they're talking to me,
they're telling me about how it feels to be free, so
free...

Waves on the sea, they're talking to me,
they're telling me about how it feels to be free, so
free...
And the wind blows away the sand, (like an hourglass) falling from my hand.

Another minute lost in peace,
I close my eyes and I can feel your breeze
Being on this beach, I am out of reach,
I cannot listen to his lies, when I'm here.

There is a couple on the run.
A solitary man, looks like he's having fun.
I don't have to fear, when freedom is near,
again you give me all the strengths I need to live.
