hightimes, undermine tell me somethin' I don't know hightimes, can chase em 'til your blind tell me somethin' I don't know

now you're lyin' next to me the one place that you shoulda' stayed lyin' next to me

now you're lyin' next to me the place I said you'd always be hightimes, gone away

hit it on the money let it go, let it go, let it go
hit it closer than you wanted
let it go, let it go, let it go

them hightimes forgave rips and tears
them hightimes forgave
but I don't care hightimes have strayed them hightimes have strayed we drove to the top of castle hill the lights of the town below we drove, you were almost still

the lights of the town below

you said things look twice as small when you have been livin' tall things look twice as small you said things look twice as far when you have been gone so long things look twice as far them hightimes forgave, but look at you now
