These are the times,
the days and the nights.
Oh, the best we'll ever know.
Come rest in my arms Umm, while love is strong.
Outside the world is cold.
When you're heart is breaking and prayers die out unheard when the more you run the more you fall behind.
Chorus
Come to me baby
Just come home to me
And love will have the last word
Ohh, ohh
Our destiny rides on every throw of the dice even when we lose we still win just hold me close Umm, and don't let go here's where it all begins when you're heart is aching and you're bridges have been burned when the road you traveled fades at every turn Chorus
Come to me baby
Just come home to me
And love will have the last word
Come to me baby.
Put your trust in me
and love will have the last word.
And love will have the last word.
And love will have the last word.
