You've been hiding now for so long
Never understanding why
Running far away from the truth
And all along chasing after lies

I have loved you from the beginning
Long before you knew my name
Even though you've broken my heart
I'll love you just the same, I'll love you anyway

Never mind your worries, never mind your fears
They can only take you far from me
When you feel there's nowhere left for you to turn
Well, I got all you want and everything you need
Come on back to me, come on back to me
Come on girl

Do you believe in second chances
Or in a love that never fades?
Put your faith in what you can't see
Just put your hand in mine, I'll show you the way

Never mind your worries, never mind your fears
They can only take you far from me
Well, I got all you want and everything you need
Come on back to me, come on back to me
Come on back to me love, come on back to me girl, alright

Never mind your worries, never mind your fears
They can only take you far from me
Well, I got all you want and everything you need
Come on back to me yeah, come on back to me
Come on back to me love, come on back to me, yeah

Come on back, come on back, come on back to me, yeah
Come on back, come on back, come on back to me, yeah yeah
Come on back to me, yeah
