The voice of an angel
I cannot tell
Light or darkness
Heaven or hell
The smile of a believer, wedged and bound
Friend or deceiver
The truth or a lie

She sings in riddles
She sings in rhymes
Saying everything and nothing at the same time
Still there's something that blows my mind
She sings in riddles
She sings in rhymes

Words of a poet in perfect time
With questions and answers
In every verse, every line
I smile and I wonder
Is there a song?
I've not yet decided if it's right or it's wrong

She sings in riddles
She sings in rhymes
Saying everything and nothing at the same time
Still there's something that blows my mind
She sings in riddles
She sings in rhymes
