There was a time when I thought
That I had you figured out
I told you before and I'll say once more
Now and then I have my doubts

I'll never pretend to know
What you are doing
It's true that you move
In mysterious ways

And I looked for you in
The fire and the wind
But you weren't there
As far as I could see

I thought I'd hear you shout
But then I figured it out
That all along you're whispering to me
And I'm still listening

Just when I thought that I had Caught a glimpse of who you are
You taught me a lesson I needed to learn
Right from the very start

I never will be the man
That I quite need to be
But that's alright
'Cause you're enough for me

And I looked for you in
The fire and the wind
But you weren't there
As far as I could see

I thought I'd hear you shout
But then I figured it out
That all along you're whispering to me
And I'm still listening

And I looked for you in
The fire and the wind

But you weren't there
As far as I could see

I thought I'd hear you shout
But then I figured it out
That all along you're whispering to me
And I'm still listening
And I'm still listening
And I'm still listening
