The shot really blew your mind
Truly out of sight
And she cried for only a week or two
Then left the tears behind
And we froze feeling like mystery
On a misty road
In the dark filling the holes with love
Just to pass the time

It was already beginning to show curses from years
ago
And the ocean is already parted
Will you take a walk
Walk with me now?

And danger averted us as it slowed me down
And it flashed in rhythm with my surprise
It never let me down
But it tried and I looked into its eyes
Then we said goodbye
There's a world balancing two designs
I can understand

It was already beginning to show curses from years
And the ocean is already parted
Will you take a walk
Walk with me now til we get to December?

Something I was never meant to find
An answer, an answer
Something I was never meant to find
An answer, an answer

The last chapter stole your heart
I was at the scene
When it stopped and I couldn't measure it
The lines were off the chart
But it played into the hands of luck
Many times it lost
There were lines I should have never crossed

And others I forgot

It was already beginning to show curses from years

And the ocean is already parted

Will you take a walk

Walk with me now til we get to December?

Something I was never meant to find

An answer, an answer

Something I was never meant to find

An answer, an answer
