i believed in you daddy but lately it's so hard to keep the faith i am too rational to stroll upon the waters

i relied on you but tonight's rush hour in the sky i lost your frequency in a cacophony of prayers

cling to me and i'll cling to you take me to your greatest height can you make anything of this and are you even listening are you even listening can you take anymore of this can i still be forgiven

take me to your greatest height
