Yes I know that the way we live is breaking your heart
And it don't help that I'm always away
And I know that deep down inside we just can't hide
This feeling that love's slipping away

Did I tell you that I love you?
Did I tell you that I need you so?
Did I tell you that the sun shine, where ever you go
Did I tell you that the stars shine
From the border 'cross the Rio Grande
Cast in heaven (in heaven) and set just for you

I can tell by the look in your eyes
You're worried about me
You're wondering if our love is all in vain
But don't think I don't care about
The way that you feel
There's something (something) I think you should know

Did I tell you that I love you?
Did I tell you that I need you so?
Did I tell you that the sun shine, where ever you go
Did I tell you that the stars shine
From the border 'cross the Rio Grande
Cast in heaven (in heaven) and set just for you (x4)
