I'm finding it hard
Hard to take
Mistakes we have made
Ignoring the ones
That we hold dear
Out of selfishness

All these things distract our eyes
And steal our time

Why do we keep fighting
But saying everything's alright?
We all see the same things
Why can't we stand side by side?
United together, we can change the world

I'm learning to take the smallest steps
And making a way
Can You take anymore?
Can You stand by while our world crashes down?
Why do we keep fighting
But saying everything's alright?
We all see the same things
Why can't we stand side by side?
United together, we can change the world

Be the spark,
Forsake your pride,
Set things right

Why do we keep fighting
But saying everything's alright?
We all see the same things
Why can't we stand side by side?
United together, we can change the world
