In the sky someone watches over me
You and I on this earth with one moon circling

Lately I have started to think about where you are Staring up the same star from miles away
I believe there is a morning after
I believe there's a morning after

You and I
I believe there's a morning after
You and I (you and I)
I believe there's a morning after

In the sky someone watches over me
You and I on this earth with one moon circling

In the sky someone watches over me
You and I on this earth with one moon circling

With one moon circling
