Didn't even ask you why
But I feel it in your eyes

Times a scary thing
And it turned you and broke everything

Its time to follow through
And re-build on something new

And if I know you at all
Would you push yourself until you fall
And if I know you at all
Just tell me what to do
That's all I ask of you

Who knows where you are
It's the silence that breaks my heart

Fire away and do what you need
Just remember the promise you left here with me
Oh

And if I know you at all
Would you push yourself until you fall
And if I know you at all
Just tell me what to do
That's all I ask of you

And if I know you at all
Would you push yourself until you fall
And if I know you at all
And if I know you at all

And if I know you at all
Would you push yourself until you fall
And if I know you at all
And if I know you at all
