Pushed my gramma down in front of a train.
I like to watch people wiggle around in pain.
Especially if it's those that I love.
Gonna send'em to the great god above
Strapped a timebomb to my son yesterday.
Told my wife he wanted her to go outside to play.
You know the whole house and yard I blew it up.
I guess now they know I love em both very much...
You know I only kill for decency.
Filling up heaven with people who mean so much to me.
So that if I ever get there
It won't be filled with people who laugh point & stare.
