For my sins I'm here without you
Don't you know my heart is breaking too
No sympathy to deliver
I'm hurting myself so no one's a winner

For my sins I'm here without you
Don't you know my heart is breaking too
No sympathy to deliver
I'm hurting myself so no one's a winner

Words fail me
Nothing comes close, I'm a beat from breaking
I see his face in all of its details and
Every time I close my eyes he's waiting
Oh I know, I've lived faithlessly
I'm just praying right now that a God can hear me
Pleading for something
Peace from this pain in my heart that is haunting
Since I let him go

For my sins I'm here without you
Don't you know my heart is breaking too
No sympathy to deliver
I'm hurting myself so no one's a winner

For my sins I'm here without you
Don't you know my heart is breaking too
No sympathy to deliver
I'm hurting myself so no one's a winner

Imagining how life would be
Without you waking up right next to me
As you left the city felt so silent
Hearing the door click close behind you felt so violent
I know love is not a promise
You're tired of fighting so won't fight for this
So I lie alone in this night and it's empty
Since he left me, and I let him go

For my sins I'm here without you
Don't you know my heart is breaking too

No sympathy to deliver
I'm hurting myself so no one's a winner

For my sins I'm here without you
Don't you know my heart is breaking too
No sympathy to deliver
I'm hurting myself so no one's a winner

Oh time, take the pain away from me
Make me face it, don't let me run
Oh bravery, come and speak to me
And let me believe in what I've become
Since I let him go...

For my sins I'm here without you
Don't you know my heart is breaking too
No sympathy to deliver
I'm hurting myself so no one's a winner

For my sins I'm here without you
Don't you know my heart is breaking too
No sympathy to deliver
I'm hurting myself so no one's a winner
