Think I'd better go, there's nothing here for me
And no-one who really cares if I go or stay And nothings been going right, though I tried and I tried
My dreams never became anything more than dreams

I just can't carry on, on my own
I don't know which way to turn, anymore
How can I can carry on, when there's no where left to go
I just can't carry on Anymore

This town drags me down, every day just seems so grey

The sun never seems to shine, and it never even seems to rain
And perhaps all I need, is just a change of scene But I've got no where to go, and I've got no one even to leave

I just can't carry on, on my own
I don't know which way to turn, anymore
I just can't carry on
Anymore
