

This Mortal Coil "With Tomorrow" it was more like a dream than reality I must have thought it was a dream while you were here with me when you were near I didn't think you would leave when you were gone it was too much to believe so with tomorrow, I will borrow another moment of joy and sorrow in another dream, and another with tomorrow

so with the sun there won't be time just to look behind there will be reasons not exclusions for my _____ mind there was so much I was told, it was not real so many things that I could not taste, but I could feel

with tomorrow
