You can't see me, I'm shining through
You're just a trend, I'll make a fool of you
I'm shining gold, I'll make a fool of you

We built you up (We built you up) To watch you fall (To watch you)
You won't stand a chance, now you're nothing
We won't give you the rope
(There's something wrong, when you sleep with one eye open)
I'd rather forget than forgive

So get on your knees, and beg for forgiveness
Bow down, this is my time to shine
Cause I know, that everything would work out somehow
You're time is out (You've done your part)
Live and let go (live and let go) it is over for you,
Live and let go (live and let go) it is over for you
Live and let go it's over for you,
Live and let go it's over for you

We built you up, to watch you fall
You won't stand a chance, now you're nothing
We won't give you the rope, I'd rather forget than forgive

Put down the gun, I tell you I've been waiting for this Get in my face, and be the last thing you ever see
Put down the gun, I tell you I've been waiting for this Watch your life flash before your eyes, and be the last thing you ever see...
Bless yourself cause it's come from the sky we will run from you
Live and let go it's over for you,
Live and let go it's over for you

We built you up, to watch you fall
You won't stand a chance, now you're nothing
We won't give you the rope, I'd rather forget than forgive

There's something wrong when you sleep with one eye
open,
You wish to forget
There's something wrong when you sleep with one eye
open,
I saw it coming, it's all been done
And now your running away from the fight that we've won
I saw it coming, it's all been done
And now your running away from the fight that we've
won
The fight that we've won...

Cause I know, (cause I know) that everything would work out somehow
You're time is out (You've done your part)
Live and let go (live and let go) it is over for you,
Live and let go (live and let go) it is over for you
Live and let go (live and let go) it is over for you Live and let go (live and let go) it is over for...
