Consuming space and time you welcome it and drawing side-by-side the lines you see fit to truth or consequence you yield and go and take control

You're getting big
You're wanting more
You're hiding behind your plastic soul
Screaming out loud
Give me it now
I don't have a doubt who's in control
who's in control

If you follow everyone it's easier to find
You have the courage and the heart to lose your mind behind the curtain there's a certain man you know you can't control

You're getting big
You're wanting more
You're hiding behind your plastic soul
Screaming out loud
Give me it now
I don't have a doubt who's in control
who's in control

You need it now
You want it more hiding behind your plastic soul
you scream out loud
give me it now
I don't have doubt
who's in control

Who's in Control?

and just like that you lose control
