No more time to cover up
No one who can hide these tracks now
As daylight spread and gave me up
Come rest here your voice will echo

Where have you hidden all your sins?
Who are you when no one sees you
At night they'll be coming at us now
In darkness I'll be waiting

These are all my sins
They're tearing holes right through our trust
No hiding
So I couldn't be the one you wanted
They're all out and alive

Like you've never thought the same?
Come rest in the arms of Judas
Somewhere there's a hideaway for dreams
Come sleep here your voice will echo

These are all my sins
They're tearing holes right through our trust
No hiding
So I couldn't be the one you wanted
They're all out and alive
