Hide, hide here in the crowd
I wish I could let go
Of all that I have seen
No martyrs here today

None, none to take your place
To stand there by your side
To fill your lungs with air
To press your shaking hand

As the lash rips it open
You know how I hurt inside
Just can't be whom you wanted
Fear ties me down
A coward's stare to the ground

Live, to live with all your fear
To sleep with open eyes
To stay forever caged
Like there's nothing more to say

As the lash rips it open
You know how I hurt inside
Just can't be whom you wanted
Fear ties me down
A coward's stare to the ground

As the lash rips it open
You know how I hurt inside

As the lash rips it open
Fear ties me down
As I stare to the ground
