When you're calling my name I do the same Cause you don't know or you do but I'm lost in the frame

In the frame of the worst thing in my life
So are you so in your blood I might dive
Seeing you smiling and bribing your words
Makes me sick makes me I'll for what it worths Hearing from you can bring me to the death on
The seventh sky of misery

Our love was more than supernatural
You're a whore and I'm more than fucking invincible

Once upon time your friends told me
That you were fake, more fake than a christmas tree
Ignoring them and taking the opportunity was a fool
Was a trap for my serenity
And it's all because I saw your twisted lips
Spinning from mouth to mouth
Sharing tongue and licks
Your silence is your most powerful fight
Because I got loud while you were being quite

Our love was more than supernatural,
You're wrong so move along
Because I'm just unreliable

Do you feel the connexion with you and the other one
The one you saw in the reflexion in the mirror of your wall
And it's all because you can't resist
I'll fight you back without rising my fist

Our love was more than supernatural
You're a whore and I'm more than fucking invincible
