Where are the roses
Where are the carnations
The diagnosis is bad
Confined to a dreamless sleep
The silence without end

Hungry and unsatisfied
Everything is never enough

Twilight falls and lights go out
One by one to a dying sound
Hungry and unsatisfied
Everything is never enough

Beware of false angels
Attaching the last hold vines
Wrap themselves around the heart
Tighter till they squeeze inside
Squeeling pigs in a frenzy
Move away from the empty trough
Hungry and unsatisfied
Everything is never enough

Hungry and unsatisfied
Everything is never enough

Twilight falls and lights go out
One by one to a dying sound
Hungry and unsatisfied
Everything is never enough

Everything is never enough
Everything is never enough
Everything is never enough
