The Earth can be any shape you want it

Any shape at all

Dark and cold or bright and warm

Long or thin or small

But it's home and all I ever had

And maybe why for me the Earth is flat
Friends have often asked me why

I'm sensitive about my height
I would look around and say

Hmm, I thought I was immune
All my life I have waited to be given any word

It was screaming to be heard

Please remember...
The Earth can be any shape you want it
Any shape at all
Dark and cold or bright and warm
Long or thin or small
But it's home and all I ever had
and maybe why for me the Earth is flat
Turn the island to the storm tonight

Then when they spill the demon seed

Turn and face into the wind
All along you still believed Believed you were immune

And if love is all you're missing

Look into your heart

Is anybody home ?

Please remember ...

The Earth can be any shape you want it

Any in the world

But don't you point that raygun at me

I might just explode

There are stones buried in your soul

And only a fool would blame the death of rock and roll, uyeah

And in time you'll come to understand

The flat old Earth is in your gentle hands
