Oh, you better not lose this one for sure don't fall asleep at the wheel, stay young and pure less is more don't disregard what I spit to the floor all is love, all is lies in times of war your best friend denies

don't lose yourself
don't lose yourself

oh, whatever I feel you've felt before these dark but colorful dreams you can't ignore less than pure bloodstained and green, will you open the door let them in, feed their will lust over love and pain over thrill
