Lights fading, still a kindness radiates,
Time turning yes you know how long it takes,
Life waning, driving you down once again,
Death defying defiance running through your veins

Sun stirring, burning new holes in your eyes,
Why sighing, still there is the new sunrise
But knowing, that you know you're hitting the wall,
Keep seeking you know just how to rise from a fall

Yes I'm searching, still I'm searching
Doing the best or the best I can
Doing the best with the gifts God gives to me
Doing the best or the best I can in life.

River winding still in i'm wondering where it leads Forsaking, safety for epiphanies
Come brothers, though we maybe beaten and worn
We're doing the best with what is given to us all

Yes I'm searching, still I'm searching
Doing the best or the best I can
Doing the best with the gifts God gives to me
Doing the best or the best I can in life.

I've had enough of dreaming, I've had enough searching
Did what I can to pay my dues, I'm always caught in catch 22's
I've had enough of thinking, I've had enough of scheming,
Leave a little bit for me, leave a little bit for me too.....

Yes I'm searching, still I'm searching
Doing the best or the best I can
Doing the best with the gifts God gives to me
Doing the best or the best I can in life.
