I see you coming up the drive
That's when I know that I'm alive
And all the things we'll leave behind
We finally found what we can find

The rest of my life is falling to pieces
While we get lost inside the moment

The waves keep crashing at my door
'Til I can't hear them anymore
And all the time I gave away
Made me who I am today
The rest of my life is falling to pieces
And where would I be now without you baby

The rest of my life is falling to pieces

The rest of my life is falling to pieces
While we get lost inside the moment

The rest of my life is falling to pieces
And where would I be now without you baby
