Rain drifts from the summer sky
I guess it's one step at a time
The more I fail now the more I try
The more I lose the more I find

Take it easy
We're just living
I guess we're doing fine
You know we all end up as nothing
It just takes some time

There was a time I used to wonder
There was a time I used to care about the things that made me stronger and everyone I held so dear

Take it easy
We're just living
I guess we're doing fine
You know we all end up as nothing
It just takes some time

There are days to remember there are days to regret All the things we could die for seemed so easy to forget

Rain drifts from the summer sky
I guess it's one step at a time
The more I fail now the more I try
The more I lose the more I find

Take it easy
We're just living
I guess we're doing fine
You know we all end up as nothing
It just takes some time
