Through my temptation to walk away
And through the endless troubled days
There's a hundred million ways
For me to release your praise

And by and by and through the tears
Things you've taught me through the years
My whole life was designed by you
I'll never know anyone half as true

I lift it up, I lift it up
Lift it up, so you can see
Lift it up, I lift it up
Lift it up from inside of me

Lift it up, I lift it up
Lift it up, so you can see
Lift it up, I lift it up

And so I lift it, said, I lift it up to you
And I will never forget
The times that we've been through
So I lift it, said, I lift it up to you

And I surrender all of me
To you, you, you
Everything I'll ever be, to you, you, to you
I surrender all of me

Through my temptation to walk away
And through the endless troubled days
There's a hundred million ways
For me to release your praise

And by and by and through the tears
And things you've taught me through the years
My whole life was designed by you
I'll never know anyone half as true

I lift it up, I lift it up
Lift it up, so you can see
I lift it up, I lift it up

Lift it up from inside of me

Lift it up, I lift it up
Lift it up, so you can see
I lift it up, I lift it up

So I lift it, I said, I lift it up to you
And I will never forget
The times that we've been through
And so I lift it, I said, I lift it up to you

And I surrender all of me
To you, you, you
Everything I'll ever be, to you, you, you
And I surrender all of me

And I surrender all of me
And I surrender all of me
