Im just a pilot here and things not always as they seem, try a little bit harder now little bit harder than before,
And I think that this might be the day that nobody Nobody comes home and I supposed to be A great day for a rude awakening awaken yourself tonight open up your eyes theres no way to hide and awaken cause its alright we could be anything yeah we could be anything and we are all lined up when You're ready and we are so much closer now and we are about to blow history wide open. and we will finally know the truth about you and I will wait for you for all of eternity through cause I never been the same now ever since You called out my name now please take me as I am A simple man takin my stand now can't you feel it cause it's so real And it's so reavealin
