I have embraced your innocence,
I've been cut through the flesh
And I can resist, building life again

Drawn back to the edge,
To the essence of my fear
With every ounce of strength,
I intend to survive this life

And we are shaped into a mold that we can't choose

Deception will bury us all, animosity
For the actions that kill all respect and desire

And we are hopeless now,
Bring back the day
And we are hopeless now

I'm lost again
Dead inside
Drowning without you now
Lost again
Drowning without your love
Dead inside
Dead inside your eyes
Lost again
Dying without you
