

Three Dog Night "Anytime Babe"

I got a letter that you wrote some days ago
You're on the road trying out your wings
And though your words were touching
Misty in my heart
Having you here would be a much better thing

I see you're finding out, the world's no bed of roses
Some folks can really tear down dreams
But I would give you comfort, if you were here with me
We'd be getting into just loving our thing

Anytime babe
You can't make out the road ahead
Anytime, and your cold, tired and down and out
Anytime babe. you need a place to rest your head
To bring your troubles to and drive em out

I've seen them funny smile's oh familiar glances
Hoping to take your mind away
But all them nights you drink up to grace your loving cup
Maybe dry and empty, in the cold light of the day

Anytime babe... you need a place to rest your head
And your cold, tired and down and out
Anytime, anytime babe... you need a pillow and a friend
To bring your troubles to and drive em out

Anytime babe ...you need a place to rest your head
And your cold, tired and down and out
Anytime... you need a friend
Anytime babe... you need a place to rest your head
And your cold, tired and down and out

Anytime babe... you need a place to rest your head
And your cold, tired down and out
