Our little house is our roof
Where our world is almost trouble-proof
But I'm headin' off to the rig now
I gotta leave you waving goodbye
And it's a good job, good pay
But a long run in the rat race
Workin' overtime in the grit and grime
I just can't wait to get back to where the issue is
Who loves who more?
You say you do and I say I do
And you say that's true but, baby
Who's keeping score?
'Cause I win when you win
When it's who loves who more
The whistle blows, I hit the road
Stop along the way the barrel
Well, I can hardly wait, tell the men I like
I'm walkin' and seein' you smilin'
Back home, you're cookin' up
A little something that you know I love
Baby, pour the wine and I'll hit the line
Then you and me a good tanglin' and hear a little battle of
Who loves who more?
You say you do and I say I do
And you say that's true but, baby
Who's keeping score?
'Cause I win when you win
When it's who loves who more
And I do, baby
I'm lovin' the way we go
Back and forth and around and around
Who loves who more?
You say you do and I say I do
And you say that's true but, baby
Who's keeping score?
'Cause I win when you win
When it's who loves who more
(Who loves who more, who loves who more?)
You say you do and I say I do
And you say that's true but, baby

(Who loves who more, who loves who more?)
(Who loves who more?)
