"In Memory Of You"

It must hurt to be the fool,
And it must hurt to be you,
The words came so plain,
But youre lying there in pain,
He cries in memory of you,

He will remember your smile,
And the touch of sweet innocence,
Hell drop on his knees,
To scream your name,
But only the pictures will stream through,

In memory of you,
We will speak a prayer,
The angels will sing,
And life will still be true,
But his love will show through,
In memory of you,

Why do we always fall?
The lord, the keeper of all,
He says he loves us,
But we cant hear his words,
He shines in memory of you,

In memory of you,
We will speak a prayer,
The angels will sing,
And life will still be true,
But his love will show through,
In memory of you,
