(written by Leane Bilberry and Tess Hermes)

Take every chance you have,
It could be your last,
Cuz baby your life passes by so fast,
In every word you speak,
Make it real,
It could be your last breath,
Make sure you fulfill your hunger for life,
It may be your last meal,
Never make the lakes oceans,
And keep the oceans calm

Cuz baby its life,
And youre living it day to day,
So put a smile on your face,
And let your life embrace,
Your shining light

People will come into your life trying to get you down,
And people will walk out of your life giving you the hope
you have found,
So pick and choose,
And listen and care,
Your true friends will always be there,

Cuz baby its life,
And youre living it day to day,
So put a smile on your face,
And let life embrace,
Your shining light
