It's a thin line

It's 5 o'clock in the morning

And I'm just getting in

I knock on the door

A voice sweet and low says

Who is it

She opens up the door

And let me in

Never do she once say, sir

Where have you been, no

She says, are ya hungry

Are ya hungry, honey

Did you eat yet

Let me hang up your coat, your coat, your coat

And the woman tells me

Pass me your hat too

All the time she smiles

Never once raises her voice

Its 5 o'clock in the morning

It's a thin line between love and hate

It's a thin line between love and hate

It's a thin line between love and hate
The sweetest woman in the world
Can be the meanest woman in the world
If you make her that way
You keep on hurting her
She keeps being quiet
She might be holding something inside
That really really hurt you one day
Here I am laying in the hospital
Bandaged from feet to head
Ya see I'm in the state of shock
Just that much from being dead
I didn't think my woman could do something like this to me
I didn't think she had the nerve
So here I am
I guess action speaks louder than words
It's a thin line between love and hate
It's a thin line between love and hate
It's a thin line between love and hate
The sweetest woman in the world
Can be the meanest woman in the world
If you make her that way
You keep on hurting her
She keeps being quiet
She might be holding something inside

That really really hurt you one day

It's a thin line between love and hate

It's a thin line between love and hate

It's a thin line between love and hate

It's a thin line

Between love and hate

It's a thin line

(repeat until fade
