After all this time i wonder if i come across your mind i can still smell the sweetness of your skin like it was yesterday to some this would be obsession but i never felt this way i want you back in my life but i know it can never be the same

never be the same

i don't know where to go from here my visoin used to be so clear this scar you left me with is the evidence of a lost love changed you call me up said you're sorry that you never meant for things to end this way..

i guess i gotta learn to let you go i don't wanna be hurt no more noo
i guess i gotta learn to let you go

cos it can never be the same

my vision used to be so clear this scar you left me with is the evidence of a lost love changed i want you back in my life but i know it can never be the same

never be the same

now i can see.. the light of day
