We're lowering the standard in a process selective.
The formula's too thin.
But it takes more than one person.
So everyone jump on.
I'll miss you when you're just like them.

Imitate and water down.
Selection breathes on its own.
Before the crash I'll write it out:
Selection breathes on its own.
Make them open the request line and let selection kill
the old.
Take back the radio

(Chorus)

I remember back then thinking:
Easy comes but doesn't stay, what comes easy never stays.
But the politics need means.
And Business never leaves.
You better sing now while you can.
Better sing now while you still can

Imitate and water down.
Selection breathes on its own.
Until we crash I'll write it out:
Selection breathes on its own.
Make them open the request line and let selection kill
the old.
Take back the radio

Sing now, while you can, while you can.x2

(Chorus)

But it takes more than one person,
So everyone jump on,
I'll miss you when your just like them.
