I saw the sign a faded stoplight up ahead I crossed the line cuz I was caught in the middle caught in the middle long empty road on damaged tyres with shallow tread so far to go I might have lost it a little lost it a little don't you stop me now I'm nowhere near my destination don't you shut me down, cuz I don't want to rest chorus:

like a maniac I sprinted way off track then took the long way back racing at full speed ahead now I'm taciturn I felt the crash and burn the point of no return will I be fighting for breath forever high empty walls the buzz of tube lights never fades my shadow falls and now I'm lost for a little lost for a little try to relax you may experience delays I know the facts but now I'm caught in the middle caught in the middle

don't you lock me out I'm sure I know the combination fragments drift about, but suddenly they're gone

burning up breaking down (don't want to be) on the edge all the time (don't want to be) flaring up freaking out (don't want to be) half awake half alive, just want to be me breaking up burning down (don't want to be) off the edge out of time (don't want to be) falling down flaking out (don't want to be) half asleep half alive, just want to be free

I close my eyes and turn out the lights cuz somebody closed this road and I can't drive cuz now there's nowhere to go I close my mind, and mine is the night mine is the longest wait and here I'll stay 'til the stoplight eventually fades don't you keep me down

I'm nowhere near my destination don't you stop me now, cuz I don't want to rest chorus 2x
