It never turned out right
With me and you
No matter how I try
To see it through
*We can not salvage it and start again*
Feels like trying to catch the wind
You are a door to which
I've lost the keys
We don't burn so well on this same page
*We can not salvage it and start again*
Feels like trying to catch the wind
And I can't carry on living like this
Talking through glass
You know that I can't be the one
To bare this through maims
You'll see your blames
You're so good to touch
You and your heart
Don't want to care too much
But fall apart
*We can not salvage it and start again*
Feels like trying to catch the wind
And I can't carry on living like this
Talking through glass
You know that I can't be the one
To bare this through maims
You'll see your blames
And so I'm left without a choice but walking out
*You are not whole*
Will never find someone like you
*You had me scream it* and believe you
But my heart is filled with doubt
Don't wanna leave but tell me what else can I do
Can I do? [x4]
